WELL BEING OF NEW TEACHER

Thesis Outline

This study explores the well-being of new teachers, focusing on the challenges, support systems and resilience strategies that shape their professional adjustment and emotional balance in the early years of teaching.

Supervisors & Institutions

Dr. Mohd Muslim Bin Md Zalli
Universiti Pendidikan Sultan Idris (UPSI)

Prof. Theresa Dicke
Australian Catholic University (ACU)

Future Goals

To publish in high-impact journals, strengthen international collaborations, and pursue a postdoctoral program at Prof. Theresa's university, while continuing to co-author impactful papers with her.

AMVPIP Experience

It was truly enriching. With the guidance of Prof. Theresa, I gained exposure to international research culture, mastered systematic review tools such as JBI for critical appraisal and data synthesis, and Rayyan for efficient article screening and management. I also built confidence in scholarly writing and, most importantly, finally learned the process of publishing in high-impact journals, while expanding my academic network.

Key Takeaways

- 1) Publishing Skills in High-Impact Journals
Learned the systematic process of preparing and publishing in reputable, high-impact journals.
- 2) Mastery of Systematic Review Tools
Gained hands-on experience with various tools.
- 3) International Research Exposure & Networking
Experienced international research culture under the guidance of Prof. Theresa and built valuable global academic connections.
